PUNKHARDCORE

Hello punx & all readers all over this fuckin' shit world! Here's the #5 of Punx attack, it's totally d.i.y. with no intention to out a good
art work, neither be a master piece. This is the first number in English, and I'll write 'bout some reviews of zines, Brazilian films, documentaries,
...and so on. I find that every body knows about the brazil, right? Beside football, samba (shit!), a big social inequality, unemployment, corruption cases, ... at least a country that hasn't a declared war, but a daily routine war, to survive, working, in a bad condition, with low salaries, disadvantages of all points of view.

As to punk movement, here in recife and in brazil as a whole, is very hard ya know, 'cause few gigs = few $; so everything in brazil is scarcely, and there are some few ones that, don't do anything and want to stop the iniciative of others criticizing others punks that want to do a real scene. There's no sense of friendship into some "punks" here but if there's a few with a vein to fight and put some ideas into action, here we go!

Well, have a good lecture and STAY PUNK! STAY ANGRY! STAY ALIVE!!!!!!!

*Orfeu negro(film)- "black orfeu " This is an old & rare film about the greek myth on carnival in brazil(rio de janeiro) in the 60's,this film was directed by Marcel camus.

Its a French/Brazilian production,inspired on the piece "orfeu da conceição" by vincius de morais,its a good one check this rarity film. Duration:1h 47 min.

Brazil no future!

Bleargh! I don't give a damn to this scum country,cos I'm tired to see the "deals" that this backyard of u.s. & all the richest countries of this fuckin'shit world. The main "policy" that all European countries make with brazil, is a policy of "partner", partner of what?! If they only want our sources of petrol, waters, amazonia jungle with all medicinal trees, ...to be exact our natural treasures, now we got a left-wing government, that didn't change any SHIT! I got angrily, when I see a group of pedophile wankers foreigners lookin' for girls, make fun with the poverty of some unhappy and poor girls here. I won't support the hypocrisy, ain't no patriotic; of course destroying flags, beliefs, countries, ...no agreeing with filth lucre of this fuckin' country called brazil. My only respect is to all punx friends from overseas, cos Every body knows that were in this same fight against inequality all over this huge and perverse world. Brazil has no future, if it depends on me :) cos am PUNK and I live my life for myself, I got no help of this government to survive, we paid a mount of taxes, but politics don't invest the money in education, welfare state, anything! Some of these burglars Brazilian politics robbed lots of money to buy a Big castle in Denmark!! It's an absurd but it's a hard reality, to all the poor people, cos the politics in brazil think that the money they got from us is toilet paper! With all these social problems happening, lotsa people, live in Ivory tower, dancing nonsense Brazilian shit axe music, womem shaking their asses on tv, streets, private idiot parties, ... FUCK the Brazilian people and all these craps! I believe in myself not in changes of this shit country.

Reviews punx movies and docs!!

* Derriba tus muros-(cdr) "A resistência continua", it means 'the resistance keeps on'; It's a hardcore punkband of recife-city back in action! Here they play 11 songs, the overture's song it's a cover and also a title song of an old band of recife. The line-up: Amadeus(v), Adriano(g/v), Allan(d), D.T.M., out some others stuff in k7 during its 10 years of band.

Punk counterculture!!!!

PUNK's punk, it doesn't matter what continent takes place with its local punx h.c. bands, distros, zines, gigs...and nowadays with the net and a host of nice blogs, sites, ...it's very fuckin' good, cos all of this came to spread more the punk counterculture around this world. I've heard a lot of rumours, that net can reduce the countercultural essence of punk; but I think that is only hoax, cause I talk personally couldn't figure out how to get a bunch of bands, zines, magazines, ...including some zines from others countries from the 80s, only trough the net man, am not a defender of this tool of communication, but I know how is great have that tool supporting the counterculture punk worldwide. But am not forgetting the "snail" cos still is trough this old way, that we got some rare and good vinyls, ep's, patches, ...But my main keep goal here is to reinforce the struggle and maintenance of punk really in 21 century, with all high tech tools, cause punk is an essence of revolt, protest, and also a good and powerful way to play a strong music.

Everybody knows that we got ourselves to support our own punk press, bands, gigs, ... society as a whole despise punk with our jackets full of studs, spiked hair, crude way of speaking...well we're a type of uninviting guest wherever we go :) but we don't fuck care, society really stinks and nobody can stop us, cause we're strong enough to put any thing down. We're resisting since the 77s this is what really matters, we're in action in protest against police on the streets, being arrested like criminals as they say, but in reality the criminals are they "cops".

Well, we're the vanguard of destruction, punk counterculture is untamed in spite of some call us of "utopics", but we show that we're the utmost vengeance against the hypocrisy and inequality of this unjust world WE ARE PUNKS!!!!
